ANNA HALPRIN: AT THE ORIGIN OF PERFORMANCE

Terrace Galleries: Jan 18–Apr 6, 2008

Pioneer of postmodern dance, Anna Halprin is known for the “task,”—the idea that everyday activities and gestures are worthy of artistic exploration—like Marcel Duchamp and John Cage, she showed us the extraordinary in the ordinary. Diagnosed with cancer in 1972, Halprin decided to dedicate her art to life, working with dances of healing to integrate creativity into daily existence through what she calls the life-art process. Join us for an audio visual celebration of Halprin’s work.

Exhibition produced by the Musée d’Art Contemporain de Lyon and curated by Jacqueline Caux.
